

We live in rural area and rely on the FM translators to provide most of our FM radio stations, specifically K-LOVE and AIR1. Allowing LPFM stations to take precedence over the FM translators that are currently very active in this part of the country would be a very disappointing move and would remove good family programming from the airwaves.